SECOND SCHEDULE

MEASUREMENT OF SOUND PRESSURE LEVELS

1.0 INSTRUMENTATION

For the purposes of determining compliance with the prescribed standards, the instrumentation used shall comply with the following requirements:

- (a) the instrumentation used shall be an integrating-averaging sound level meter (also known as an integrating sound level meter or an averaging sound level meter) with a measurement capability of the range of 30 dB to 140 dB, and which complies with the specifications for integrating-averaging sound level meters Type 1 or 2 respectively, as specified in International Electrotechnical Commission Standard IEC 804:1985 Integrating-averaging sound level meters and applicable requirements of IEC 651:1979 sound level meters, or with other standards as approved by the Authority;
- (b) the integrating-averaging sound level meter shall also possess the capability to measure unweighted sound pressure levels (linear response) and the peak time weighted characteristic as specified in IEC 651:1979;
- (c) the integrating-averaging sound level meter shall also possess the capability to log the acoustic data in the memory of the meter, over the measurement period(s).

2.0 CALIBRATION

For the purposes of determining compliance with the prescribed standards, the integrating-averaging sound level meter shall be appropriately calibrated for the acoustical environment in which it shall be used.

NOTE: Generally, for measurement of community (environmental) sound, the instrument shall be calibrated for diffuse field.

3.0 PERSONNEL

The determination of sound pressure levels shall be conducted by competent officers so designated by the Authority or by persons appropriately trained in sound level measurement techniques.

4.0 GENERAL PROCEDURES

4.1 The following general procedures shall be followed in measuring sound pressure levels:

- (a) as far as possible, standard sound measurement practice and the manufacturer's instructions for the calibration and method and manner of use of the integrating-averaging sound level meter should be observed;

- (b) the calibration of the integrating-averaging sound level meter should be checked in the field in accordance with the manufacturer's instructions prior to taking the sound pressure level measurements of the source under investigation;
- (c) to prevent measuring errors caused by wind blowing across the microphone, a windscreen as recommended by the manufacturer of the integrating-averaging sound level meter should be used.

4.2 SETTINGS ON INSTRUMENT

In determining compliance with the prescribed standards, measurements shall be taken with the integrating-averaging sound level meter on the following settings:

- (a) the integrating-averaging sound level meter shall be set at the 3 dB exchange rate;
- (b) in determining equivalent continuous sound pressure level, the meter shall be set on the "Fast" response and "A-weighted" frequency characteristic;
- (c) in determining instantaneous unweighted peak sound pressure level, the meter shall be set on the "Peak" response and "Linear" frequency (unweighted) characteristic.

4.3 LOCATION OF MEASUREMENT POINTS

In determining compliance with the prescribed standards, the background sound pressure level shall be measured at or beyond the boundary of the property in which the source of the sound under investigation is located, or at the boundary of a receptor.

The following guidelines should be observed in positioning the integrating-averaging sound level meter when taking measurements:

- (a) for outdoor measurements, the preferred measurement height is 1.2 to 1.5 metres above the ground. For outdoor measurements near buildings, the preferred measurement positions are, at least, 1 metre to 2 metres horizontally from the façade and at least, 1.2 metres to 1.5 metres above each floor level of interest;
- (b) where sound pressure levels are to be determined inside buildings, the measurements shall be carried out in enclosures where the sound is of interest. The preferred measurement positions are at least 1 metre horizontally from the walls or other major reflecting surfaces, 1.2 metres to 1.5 metres above the floor and about 1.5 metres from windows.

4.4 METEOROLOGICAL CONDITIONS

For the purposes of determining compliance with the prescribed standards, sound pressure levels may be taken under any prevailing meteorological conditions provided that there is the absence of precipitation, thunder and distinctly audible winds. Further, meteorological conditions prevailing at one time period shall be deemed to be similar to those at another time period if both time periods fall within the same time of day, i.e., “daytime” or “night-time” as defined by the respective intervals for the relevant type of noise zone, and if during the period of measurement, there is no precipitation, thunder or distinctly audible winds blowing in the immediate vicinity. (For guidance, the immediate vicinity may be interpreted as within a radius of 10 metres of the microphone of the integrating-averaging sound level meter).

4.5 BACKGROUND SOUND PRESSURE LEVEL

The background sound pressure level at a specific site shall be determined by measuring both the equivalent continuous sound pressure level in dBA, and, the maximum instantaneous unweighted peak sound pressure level over any measurement period (which shall be reported in the report as required in the Third Schedule). These measurements shall be taken during the same time of day as defined for the respective prescribed standards with which compliance is being determined.

NOTE: The point at which measurements for determining the background sound pressure level are taken, should be preferably in the immediate vicinity of the point at which the background sound pressure level with the source in operation would be taken; however, such measurements for determining background sound pressure level should not be taken at points outside a radius of 100 metres from the source under investigation.

THIRD SCHEDULE

[Rules 6(3) and
8(2)].

6.2 Personal service on a party may be effected by delivering a copy to the party personally.

6.3 A copy may be delivered to a person by handing it to the person or by leaving it in the person's presence and informing the person of its nature.

6.4 Except where personal service is required, service on a party may be effected by delivering a copy at the residence or place of business of the party to a person apparently not less than sixteen years old and apparently residing at that residence or employed at that place of business.

6.5 For service of a document to be regular it is not necessary for the original to be produced to any person.

Service of other
documents.

6.6 Documents other than a notice of proceedings may be served on a party by the server or his agent unless the Commission orders otherwise.

Mode of Service of Other
Documents.

6.7 Where a document other than a notice of proceedings is to be served on any person, it may be served by any of the following methods:

- (a) personal service in accordance with rule 6.1–6.3;
- (b) registered mail;

- (c) delivery by courier service;
- (d) facsimile transmission; or
- (e) E-mail.

6.8 If a party has given an address at which documents for him shall be served, the documents must be delivered or posted to him at that address.

Address for Service.

6.9 If the party has given a facsimile transmission number in his address for service the documents shall be sent to him by facsimile transmission to that number.

6.10 If a party to be served has not given an Address at which documents for him shall be served, documents shall be served at—

6.11 A party may change the address for service by filing and serving a notice of the change showing the new address for service.

6.12 Service cannot be effected on a Sunday or any public holiday, unless authorised by the Chairman.

Days when Service cannot be effected.

6.13 In the case of a doubtful service, the Commission may not allow any fresh steps in proceedings to be taken against a party, and may adjourn or strike out the proceedings, or order fresh process to issue, as it considers just.

Doubtful
Service.

6.14 In subrule 6.13 “doubtful service” refers to a case where service of any document on a party has not been personal, and the Commission is satisfied on the evidence before it that the document either did not come to the knowledge of the party within reasonable time, or on that evidence, that the service is in doubt.

Substituted
Service.

6.15 If for any reason it is impractical to effect service of a document on a person in any of the modes prescribed in this rule for that service, the Commission may, on application supported by an affidavit showing grounds, direct that, instead of service, such steps be taken as specified in the order for the purpose of bringing the document to the notice of the person.

6.16 If the Commission makes an order under this rule, it may order that service be taken to be effected on the happening of any specified event, or on the expiry of any specified time.

Deemed
Service.

6.17 If it is impractical for any reason to effect service of a document, but steps have been taken for the purpose of bringing, or having a tendency to bring the document to the notice of the party, the Commission may, if it thinks fit, direct that the service be deemed to have been effected on a date specified in the order (e.g., fourteen days after posting the document is deemed to be served).

6.18 The Commission may dispense with service of a document if it is appropriate to do so.

Service on
Attorney-at-law.

6.19 If an Attorney endorses on any process a note that he accepts service of the process on behalf of any person, process is taken to have been duly served on the person on the date on which a copy of the process was delivered to the Attorney or left at the Attorney's office.

Service on
Attorney-at-law
(Other Documents).

6.20 Delivery of a copy of a document in proceedings to a party's Attorney, or leaving a copy at the Attorney's office, or sending a copy by post addressed to the Attorney at the Attorney's office, is taken to be good service of the document on the party as on the day when the copy is delivered or left, or would have been delivered in the ordinary course of post, as the case may require.

6.21 Delivery by any particular electronic means to the Attorney's office of a reproduction of the document or copy, is sufficient service on that party as on the day after that delivery, if the Attorney has indicated in writing that delivery by those means is acceptable as service.

6.22 Subrules 6.20–6.21 apply in a case where a party has on the record of any proceedings an Attorney acting for him. These rules do not apply to or in respect of the service of any originating process or document if that service must be personal.

6.23 For the purposes of the proof of service, evidence of a statement by a person of the person's identity, or that the person holds some office, as evidence of that identity or that the person holds the office, as the case may be, shall be admissible.

6.24 Service on a company which is a party may be effected by delivery to a director, officer, receiver, receiver-manager or liquidator or to the general manager of the company, or its registered office.

6.25 Subrule 6.24 applies where no other law applies to service on the company.

6.26 If a person is carrying on a business within Trinidad and Tobago under a business name not registered under the Registration of Business Names Act, any process or document relating to any proceeding may be served on such person—

- (a) by leaving it at a place within Trinidad and Tobago where the business is carried on with someone apparently engaged (whether employee or otherwise) in the business and apparently not less than sixteen years old; or
- (b) by sending it by registered mail addressed to the business name, or to the person at a place within Trinidad and Tobago where the business is carried on.

6.27 This rule applies whether or not the person is named in the proceedings in his name or in a business name.

6.28 Service according to this rule has effect as personal service.

Ch. 82:05.

6.29 Subrules 6.26–6.28 do not limit the operation of the Registration of Business Names Act, or of any other Act or Regulation relating to service.

Response to Service of Proceedings.

6.30 Upon being served with a notice of proceedings other than a notice of direct private party action, the Authority shall within 10 days file with the Commission a list of the names and addresses of any other persons who the Authority considers should be notified of the proceedings, because they may have an interest in the outcome.

6.31 A party other than the Authority served with a notice of proceedings must file within 28 days of service a statement of case in opposition to the application and copies of all documents relevant thereto.

6.32 The Authority upon being served with a Notice of Application or a Notice of Appeal must file within 28 days a Reply or Statement of Defence and copies of all documents relevant thereto.

7. PRELIMINARY HEARING AND CONFERENCE

7.1 A Preliminary hearing may be held to deal with any of the following:

- (a) identifying parties and other interested persons and the scope of their participation in the hearing;
- (b) determining the length, schedule and the location of the hearing;
- (c) determining whether the hearing will be conducted orally, electronically or in writing;

- (d) hearing preliminary interlocutory applications, including interlocutory applications to dismiss for non-compliance;
- (e) addressing procedural issues;
- (f) identifying, defining and simplifying issues;
- (g) arranging for the exchange among parties of all documents relevant to the proceeding;
- (h) identifying witnesses;
- (i) establishing facts or evidence that may be agreed on;
- (j) parties agreeing on a joint expert;
- (k) scheduling an alternative dispute resolution process (most probably mediation) prior to the date set for the hearing; and
- (l) any other matters that may assist in the just and expeditious disposition of the proceedings.

7.2 Any representative attending a preliminary hearing or conference must have the authority to make procedural or other agreements and give undertakings respecting the matters to be addressed.

8. ADJOURNMENTS

8.1 If, after the notice of the date of hearing of any proceedings has been given, the parties want an adjournment, they should communicate with the Registrar at least five days before the date of hearing or its continuance, stating the grounds for an adjournment. However, such a request for adjournment, though by consent, may not necessarily be granted. If an adjournment is sought at a late stage, the Commission may order payment of costs, including the costs of the Commission. In granting or refusing an adjournment the Commission may impose such conditions as it considers appropriate.

9. INTERLOCUTORY APPLICATIONS

9.1 This Rule applies to an interlocutory or other application in relation to any proceedings, other than an application by which proceedings are started.

9.2 An interlocutory application in respect of any proceedings shall be made by filing in the proceedings the following documents:

- (a) an application in Form 5 of the Schedule I;
- (b) all affidavits and other documents in support of the application; and
- (c) a draft of the order sought.

9.3 Once the documents are filed as required by this rule, the Registrar shall, as soon as practicable, submit all documents filed in the proceedings (including those required by this rule) to the Chairman or Deputy Chairman of the Commission for consideration of the application and the hearing thereof.

9.4 The Commission may not hear an interlocutory application unless the requisite documents have first been filed in the proceedings and have been served on each party.

9.5 However, a party may move the Commission without previously filing or serving notice of the interlocutory application—

- (a) if the preparation of the application, its filing or service (as the case may be) would cause undue delay or other mischief to the applicant;
- (b) if each party interested, other than the applicant consents to the order; or
- (c) if the Commission dispenses with the requirements of rule 9.4.

9.6 Every interlocutory application shall—

- (a) state the precise relief sought;

- (b) state the grounds to be argued, including a reference to any statutory provision or rule to be relied on;
- (c) list and exhibit the documentary evidence to be used at the hearing of the application;
- (d) name each party to be affected by the order which is sought; and
- (e) bear a note of any previous order made by the Commission in connection with the subject matter of the application.

9.7 If an interlocutory application is required to be served, it must, unless the Commission otherwise orders, be served not less than three clear days before the date fixed for the hearing of the application.

Time for Service.

9.8 Nothing in these Rules shall prohibit the Commission from ordering that time be abridged or extended for the service of an interlocutory application.

9.9 A hearing date shall be obtained from the Registrar before the application is served and it shall be endorsed on the copies for service.

Hearing date for Interlocutory Applications.

9.10 Unless the Commission permits oral evidence, the evidence in the hearing of an interlocutory application shall be by affidavit. A party who intends at the hearing to rely on any affidavit must file the affidavit in the proceeding and serve a copy on every other interested party (except a party on whom service of an interlocutory application is dispensed with in accordance with these Rules) not less than two days before the hearing or within such period as the Commission may order.

Affidavits.

9.11 Every affidavit shall be endorsed with a note showing on whose behalf it is filed and the dates of swearing and filing, and an affidavit which is not so endorsed, must not be filed or used without the leave of the Commission.

Hearing of Interlocutory Application.

9.12 The Commission, on the hearing or adjourned hearing of any interlocutory application, may make or refuse the order sought and may make such other order or give directions as may be just.

9.13 An interlocutory application in relation to any proceedings shall include, so far as is practicable, all or as many applications as the applicant may wish to make in relation to the proceedings and having regard to the nature of the proceedings, can conveniently be dealt with at the same time.

9.14 On the hearing or the adjourned hearing of the interlocutory application, any respondent is at liberty to make an application for an order in relation to the proceedings.

9.15 The Commission may either grant or refuse the order applied for by the respondent, and give such directions as may be just, or may adjourn the hearing of the application and direct that notice be given of the application.

9.16 If the Commission grants or refuses any order upon the hearing or adjourned hearing of an interlocutory application, it may do so on terms.

10. MEDIATION

Purpose of Mediation.

10.1 In accordance with section 84(3) of the Act, the Commission encourages parties to consider mediation and other alternative dispute resolution procedures. Mediation, which is part of the proceeding before the Commission but not a part of the hearing, may be held for the purpose of attempting to reach a settlement of the issues, or at least their simplification. It is conducted in confidence, by a member of the Commission, Commission staff or a person appointed by the Commission. If no settlement is reached on the issues, the hearing will take place with no reference to the information disclosed during the mediation, except with the consent of the parties. The Commissioner who conducted the mediation may sit or continue to sit as a Commissioner exercising jurisdiction to hear and determine the matter.

10.2 Parties may apply to the Commission for referral to mediation of a matter arising in proceedings at any time after the commencement of those proceedings.

Time for Mediation.

10.3 If the parties consent to referral to mediation, the proceedings will stand adjourned to enable the mediation to be conducted, unless the Commission considers that, in all the circumstances, they should not be adjourned.

Adjournment of Proceedings.

10.4 At least seven days before a mediation session is to commence, the parties shall exchange statements of the issues that are in dispute between them and supply copies to the Commission.

Statement of Issue.

10.5 The Member of the Commission or other person to whom a matter is referred for mediation—

Appointments and Directions.

- (a) shall, within seven days of being notified of the referral, in writing, appoint a time and place for mediation;
- (b) may appoint a preliminary meeting of the parties; and
- (c) may give directions relating to preparations for and the conduct of the mediation.

10.6 A mediation session shall be attended by each party or, by a representative having authority to settle the matter.

Attendance and Representation.

10.7 Other persons may attend a mediation session with the leave of the mediator.

10.8 The mediator shall within seven days of the conclusion of the mediation, advise the Commission of that fact but not the details thereof.

Conclusion and Outcome of Mediation.

10.9 The parties may advise the Commission of the terms agreed between them, of any agreement or arrangement arrived at or arising out of a mediation session.

Termination. 10.10 A mediator may terminate a mediation.

10.11 A party may terminate a mediation at any time by giving notice of the termination to the Commission, the mediator and every other party.

10.12 If a mediation is terminated, the proceedings are sent to the Chairman for further directions, if necessary.

Confidentiality. 10.13 All documents submitted and all statements made at the mediation are confidential and without prejudice.

10.14 Any confidential documents used at the mediation shall—

- (a) not be accessible to the public;
- (b) be returned to the party who submitted the documents after the mediation;
- (c) not be considered to be filed in the proceedings; and
- (d) not part of the record.

11. HEARING PROCEDURE

Written Submission. 11.1 Every party to a complaint, an application, or appeal, must file a written submission (five copies) with the Commission and serve a copy on every other party at least seven days before the date of hearing.

11.2 A written submission shall contain—

- (a) a summary of the facts and evidence to be relied on by the party;
- (b) a list of witnesses to be called on by the party and a summary of the evidence of each witness including photographs and other visual presentations other than models; and
- (c) the name, address, telephone and fax numbers of an Attorney-at-law or other agent acting on behalf of the other party.

UNOFFICIAL VERSION

UPDATED TO DECEMBER 31ST 2012

11.3 Unless the Commission directs otherwise, at the beginning of every hearing each party shall give a brief opening statement that describes the issues that the party will address at the hearing. The statement should include an outline of the evidence the party intends to introduce, a list of witnesses, the topics to be covered and the amount of time required.

Opening Statements.

11.4 Unless otherwise required by the Commission, the opening statements will be made in the following order—

- (a) the applicant/complainant/appellant;
- (b) the Authority;
- (c) the Attorney General; and
- (d) other parties.

11.5 Unless the Commission directs otherwise, the evidence at a hearing shall be presented by the parties in the following order:

Order of Presentation.

- (a) the applicant/complainant/appellant;
- (b) other parties whose interest or position is, in the opinion of the Commission, similar to that of the applicant/complainant/appellant;
- (c) the Authority's representative at the hearing;
- (d) other parties whose interest or position is, in the opinion of the Commission, similar to that of the Authority;
- (e) the Attorney General;
- (f) the witnesses of the Commission, if any; and
- (g) the applicant/complainant/appellant in reply.

11.6 If two or more proceedings before the Commission involve the same or similar facts, law, or policy, the Commission may, with the consent of the parties, combine the proceedings or any part of them or hear the proceedings at the same time.

Combining Proceedings or Hearing
Proceedings
together.

11.7 A witness having technical or special knowledge, who is retained by any of the parties before the Commission to give evidence, shall provide a written curriculum vitae of his qualifications and experience.

Expert
Witnesses.

11.8 In hearings, the Commission will not normally qualify a witness as an expert, but any witness with a degree of specialised knowledge should reference that knowledge on the curriculum vitae. Any party may challenge the qualifications of any witness having technical or specialised knowledge, before or during the course of his testimony.

11.9 Curricula vitarum shall be filed with the Commission at least seven days prior to the hearing.

11.10 The Commission, in its discretion, will determine the weight to be given each witness' testimony and the witness' qualifications and experience will be a factor in determining the weight to be given such testimony.

Witness
Summonses.

11.11 Witness summonses (see Schedule I, Form 6) must be served no later than ten working days before the date of hearing, except where the witness would attend willingly, and the issue of a summons is a matter of form, the Commission will not normally issue a witness summons less than five working days before the date of hearing.

12. EVIDENCE

Admissibility.

12.1 The Commission shall admit any relevant oral or documentary evidence that is not privileged. Relevant evidence means evidence having any tendency to make the existence of any fact that is of consequence to the determination of the proceeding more probable or less probable than it would be without the evidence. The Commission may, however, exclude evidence if its probative value is substantially outweighed by the danger of unfair prejudice, confusion of the issues, or considerations of undue delay, waste of time, or needless presentation or repetition.

12.2 The fact that evidence is deemed admissible does not mean that it will be determinative of the issue.

12.3 Where there is full compliance with the Evidence Act and with any legislation dealing with privilege, the Commission may limit introduction of evidence or issue such protective or other order that in its judgment is required to prevent undue disclosure of classified, confidential or sensitive matters including but not limited to matters of national security, business, or of a personal or proprietary nature.

Confidential and Sensitive Information.
Ch. 7:02.

12.4 Where the Commission determines that information in documents containing classified, confidential or sensitive matters should be made available to another party, the Commission may direct the party to prepare an unclassified or non-sensitive summary or extract of the original. The summary or extract may be admitted as evidence in the record.

12.5 If the Commission determines that the procedure described at rule 11.4 is inadequate and that classified or otherwise sensitive matters must form part of the record in order to avoid prejudice to a party, the Commission may advise the parties and provide opportunity for arrangements to permit a party or representative to have access to such matters.

12.6 The Commission may accept and enter into the record direct testimony of a witness made by a sworn written statement rather than by oral presentation at the hearing. A witness whose testimony is presented by a sworn written statement shall be available for cross-examination, as may be required.

Written Testimony.

12.7 Cross-examination shall be limited to the scope of the direct evidence and subject to the discretion of the Commission, and shall always be limited to witnesses whose testimony is adverse to the party desiring to cross-examine. Cross-examination will be permitted to the extent necessary for full and true disclosure of the facts. The Commission may, in the exercise of its discretion, permit inquiry into additional matters as if on direct evidence.

Cross-examination.

12.8 Evidence of a confidential or sensitive nature or evidence so deemed can with the leave of the Commission, be heard in camera.

Evidence in Camera.

Environmental Commission Rules of Practice and Procedure

Technical and Scientific
Evidence.

12.9 A technical witness is a person who gives scientific and technical observations, tests, measurements and estimates. He may be able to collect this information because of special training and expertise, but is not an expert who interprets scientific and technical evidence and provides opinions.

12.10 An expert witness is someone who has specialised education, training or experience that qualifies him to reliably interpret scientific or technical information or to express opinions about matters for which untrained or inexperienced persons cannot provide reliable opinions.

The Role of the Technical
Witness.

12.11 The Commission expects the witness giving technical evidence to remain within his area of competence. The witness should not attempt to interpret the meaning or significance of tests, observations and measurements unless qualified to do so. The witness should disclose in advance to other parties all measurements, tests, observations, and data relating to the issues about which he will give evidence, and disclose in examination-in-chief all information relevant to the issues before the Commission, regardless of which party the information appears to favour.

The Role of the Expert Witness.

12.12 The opinion evidence from a properly qualified expert witness should be based on accurate facts, reliable estimates, and accepted or tested techniques or methods of investigation, measurement and analysis.

Evidence of Technical and Expert
Witnesses.
Schedule II.

12.13 Technical witnesses as well as the expert witnesses are expected to be guided by the practice hereinafter appearing in Schedule II of these Rules.

Compliance.

Schedule II.

12.14 (1) Failure to comply with rules 12.9–12.13 and the Guidelines for Technical and Expert Witnesses set out in Schedule II referred to in rule 12.13 may result in, among other things—

- (a) a decision by the Commission to decline to accept the opinions or evidence of an otherwise qualified witness;

UNOFFICIAL VERSION

UPDATED TO DECEMBER 31ST 2012

- (b) the evidence being admitted and heard, but accorded little weight;
- (c) the Commission intervening to ensure that the rules are respected; and
- (d) the conduct of the witness being noted and may be subject to adverse comment in the decision of the Commission.

(2) Where it appears to the Commission that there has been a breach of professional standards of conduct, an attempt to mislead, incompetence or negligence, extensive violation of these Rules, or serious interference with its process, the Commission may report this to the professional association or licensing body responsible for compliance with its standards of conduct.

13. STAY

13.1 A party may apply for a stay of the decision that is the subject of the notice of appeal, or the decision of the Commission and the Commission may grant such a stay at its discretion. An application for a stay shall be in writing, signed by the applicant or his agent, filed with the Commission and served on all parties to the original proceedings.

13.2 Upon an application for a stay, the Commission may—

- (a) make an order staying the order, decision or original proceedings;
- (b) dismiss the application for a stay; or
- (c) issue directions on procedure, inviting submissions from interested persons on whether or not a stay should be granted. Directions on procedure issued shall provide that—
 - (i) the applicant for a stay shall serve a copy of the directions on procedure on all parties to the original proceedings;
 - (ii) an interested person filing a submission with the Commission shall serve a copy of

- the submission on the applicant for a stay and all parties to the original proceedings;
- (iii) the applicant for a stay be given an opportunity to reply to any submissions; and
- (iv) the applicant for a stay shall file a copy of any reply with the Commission and serve it on all parties to the original proceedings.

13.3 If the application for the stay relates to the issuing of an enforcement order or an environmental protection order and is made by the person who has been issued the order, the Commission may—

- (a) require the Authority to take whatsoever action the Commission considers necessary to carry out the terms and conditions of the order, and determine the costs of doing so; and
- (b) require the recipient of the order to provide security to cover such costs, if the Commission is of the opinion that immediate and significant adverse effects may result, if the terms and conditions of the order are not carried out.

14. JOINDER OF PARTIES AND INTERVENTIONS

14.1 Where any matter or issue connected with the subject matter of the proceedings should be determined not only as between the original parties but also as between either or both of them and a person not already a party, such person may make an application to intervene in the proceedings or may be joined as a party on the application of any party.

14.2 Such an application to intervene or to join or be joined shall be in writing and shall contain in addition to particulars in rule 9.2, particulars of the person's interest in the subject matter of the proceedings.

14.3 In order to make a determination of an application to intervene, the Commission shall consider whether—

- (a) the applicant's participation will materially assist the Commission in deciding the matter by providing testimony, cross-examining witnesses, or offering arguments or other evidence directly relevant to the matter and whether the applicant has a sufficient interest in the subject matter of the proceeding and his intervention will not unnecessarily delay the progress of the matter;
- (b) the applicant's position is or is not supportive of the proceedings, complaint or appeal;
- (c) the applicant will not repeat or duplicate evidence presented by other parties; and
- (d) if the application is late, there are satisfactory reasons therefor.

14.4 An appellant who claims or requests (such claim or request to be in writing) that the Commission vary, revoke, or provide other relief from the Authority's decision or order because of alleged acts or omissions of a person who is not a party to the appeal shall—

Action of Person not a Party upon whom a Notice of Proceedings is Served.

- (a) within 10 days of the filing of such claim or request, serve that person and the Authority with a Notice of Allegation, including the facts upon which the appellant relies in support of the allegation together with copies of all documents relevant thereto; and
- (b) within 7 days thereafter, provide the Commission with the person's address, telephone and fax numbers, and file a copy of the notice and proof of service.

14.5 A person served with a Notice of Allegation shall within 10 days of receipt thereof, file with the Commission a list of the names and addresses of any other persons who he considers should be notified of the proceedings, because they may have an interest in the outcome.

14.6 After service of the Notice of Allegation, the recipient and/or the Authority shall, within 21 days thereafter—

- (a) file an acknowledgement of service (see Schedule I Form 7) indicating whether he/it wishes to be heard on the matter or not, and give an address for service, and if he/it wishes to accept further service by fax or e-mail, a telephone number for facsimile transmission or an e-mail address as may be the case; and
- (b) in the event that the recipient and/or the Authority wishes to be heard on the matter he/it shall file and serve upon all parties his/its reply in the matter together with all documents relevant thereto.

15. DISCONTINUANCE OR WITHDRAWAL

Discontinuance. 15.1 A party may, with the leave of the Commission or the consent of the other parties, discontinue or withdraw the whole or any part of the proceedings brought by him.

Withdrawal. 15.2 A respondent may with the consent of the applicant, and all other parties, have the proceedings withdrawn.

Mode of discontinuance or withdrawal. 15.3 A discontinuance or withdrawal shall be made by filing a notice stating the extent of the discontinuance or withdrawal.

15.4 If the discontinuance or withdrawal is by consent, the consent shall be endorsed by each consenting party on the notice before filing.

Service. 15.5 Where leave of the Commission is sought to discontinue or withdraw, an application in that behalf shall be made and notice of such application shall be served on all parties.

16. BURDEN OF PROOF

16.1 In a case in which the Commission hears evidence, any party offering such evidence shall have the burden of introducing appropriate evidence to support its position. Where there is conflicting evidence, the Commission shall decide which evidence to accept and generally act on the preponderance of the evidence.

17. COSTS

17.1 Any party to a proceeding before the Commission may make an application for an award of costs on an interim or final basis. A party, in the preparation and presentation of his submissions, may make an application for all costs that are reasonable and are directly and primarily related to the matters in the Application or Notice of Appeal or Direct Private Party Action.

17.2 An application for an award of interim costs may be made by a party at any time prior to the close of hearing.

17.3 An application for interim costs shall contain sufficient information to demonstrate to the Commission that interim costs are necessary in order to assist the party in effectively preparing its submissions at a hearing.

17.4 An award of interim costs is subject to a redetermination in an award of final costs.

17.5 No party shall be entitled to recover any costs of or incidental to any proceedings from any other party to the proceedings, except under an order of the Commission. If the Commission in the exercise of its discretion sees fit to make any order as to the costs of and incidental to any proceedings, the Commission shall order that costs follow the event, except when it appears to the Commission that in the circumstances of the proceedings some other order should be made as to the whole or any part of the costs.

18. SITE VISIT AND INSPECTION

18.1 The Commission may make one or more site visits or inspections to better understand the evidence given at the hearing, and may in each case issue directions for the procedures to be followed during the site visit or inspection.

19. DECISIONS, JUDGMENTS AND ORDERS OF THE COMMISSION

19.1 In this Rule “order” includes a decision or judgment.

General relief.

19.2 The Commission may, at any stage of any proceedings, on the application of any party, make such order as the nature of the case requires.

19.3 The Commission may do so even if the applicant did not make a claim for relief extending to that order.

Minute of decision.

19.4 (1) A minute of the final order disposing of the proceedings shall be signed, sealed and filed by the Registrar.

(2) The Registrar shall prepare, sign and seal a minute of any other order when directed by the Commission to do so.

Time of effect.

19.5 A final order disposing of any proceedings takes effect when it is given or made, unless otherwise ordered by the Commission.

Time for compliance with orders not relating to money.

19.6 An order, which requires a person to do an act other than the payment of money, shall specify the time within which the person is required to do the act.

19.7 The time shall be 7 days after the date of service of a copy of the order on the person required to do the act, unless the Commission otherwise orders.

19.8 The Commission may, by a later order, require the person to do the act within another specified time.

Setting aside, or varying an order.

19.9 The Commission may, on terms, set aside or vary an order in any of the following cases:

- (a) if the order has been made in the absence of a party, whether or not the absent party is in default

- of appearance or otherwise in default, and whether or not the absent party had notice of the application for the order;
- (b) if the application for setting aside or variation is filed before the signing, sealing and filing of the minute under subrule 19.4;
 - (c) if the order was obtained by fraud;
 - (d) if the order is interlocutory;
 - (e) if the order through mistake or error does not reflect the intention of the Commission; or
 - (f) if the party in whose favour the order was made consents.

20. APPEALS FROM DECISIONS OF THE COMMISSION

20.1 A party wishing to appeal a decision of the Commission shall comply with the provisions of section 87 of the Act.

21. TRANSITIONAL PROVISIONS

21.1 Any proceedings pending before the Environmental Commission prior to the commencement of these Rules shall be deemed to have been commenced and shall be continued in accordance with these Rules.

SCHEDULE II

GUIDELINES FOR TECHNICAL AND EXPERT WITNESSES

1. The Commission expects the technical and/or expert witness to provide it with assistance by way of qualified, relevant opinions and accurate information in relation to matters within his expertise. Objectivity and impartiality are necessary to assist the Commission in its decision.

2. Evidence that is influenced by the special interests of a party may be received and considered, but the Commission may give this evidence little or no weight.

3. The Witness should express an opinion to the Commission only when the opinion is based on adequate knowledge and sound conviction. The witness should be reluctant to accept an assignment to provide evidence for use by the Commission if the terms of reference of the assignment do not allow the witness to carry out the investigations and obtain the information necessary to provide such an opinion. A witness who accepts an assignment under these circumstances, should advise the Commission of the limitations that the terms of reference place on his ability to provide the information necessary to assist the Commission in making a sound decision or to give informed opinions.

4. Technical and expert evidence should be and should be seen to be, the independent product of the witness uninfluenced as to form and content by the exigencies of litigation, the particular dispute before the Commission, and the interests of the witness' client.

5. The witness must never assume the role of advocate for a party. Argument and advocacy should be left to an Attorney-at-law and agents presenting the party's case. This does not preclude the vigorous advancement of strongly held scientific or other professional opinions or prevent a duly qualified witness who is also a party, from advancing technical and opinion evidence.

6. The witness has a duty to change his opinion where circumstances, such as the receipt of new information, require it. If at any time before the Commission issues its final decision, the witness changes his view on a material matter for any reason, particularly after having read the reports or listened to the evidence of witnesses for other parties, the change in information and/or opinion should be communicated to the Commission without delay. Where reports or documents prepared by the witness contain errors or information which has changed, this must be promptly identified.

7. The witness must not change his opinion or change or withhold information to suit the position taken by the party that has retained or employed him.

8. In preparing reports to be used by the witness' employer or client in determining the issues to be raised and the employer or client's position on those issues and for use as evidence, and in testifying before the Commission, the witness has the following duties of disclosure:

- (a) It is the responsibility of the witness to make fair and full disclosure.
- (b) The witness should make it clear when a particular question or issue falls outside his or her expertise.
- (c) To be useful, the opinion and evidence must provide enough clear information on assumptions, procedures used, and conclusions drawn to allow comprehension of the report as it stands, and permit fair and efficient cross-examination.
- (d) When the witness is providing an opinion or giving evidence on an issue or problem area for which there are differences of professional or scientific opinion, he has an obligation to make such differences clearly known to the Commission and all parties. The witness should make reasonable efforts to be fully informed of those differences.
- (e) The witness should state all the material facts and assumptions upon which his opinion is based. He or she should not omit to consider and acknowledge material facts which could detract from the opinion. Where the facts are in dispute, the Commission expects that the witness will give his view of the facts and the proof relied upon before giving the opinion.
- (f) Where the opinion and evidence are based on information contained in other documents, detailed references should be provided in any report prepared by the expert, and copies of those documents made available on request before and during the hearing. Copies of the documents should be brought for reference on cross-examination.
- (g) Parties and their respective representatives questioning their own witnesses are required by the Rules of Practice and Procedure of the Commission to ask questions designed to elicit the information required by these guidelines. However, the witness is expected to disclose to the Commission and to all other parties all significant information and opinions, and errors, shortcomings and limiting factors even if no one has asked for them.
- (h) The weight to be given to the evidence of technical and expert witnesses will be affected by the demeanor of the witness. The witness should give direct answers to questions and should not be evasive while giving testimony, even though the answers may appear to be detrimental to the case of the witness' client or employer. Any effort to avoid answering direct questions could adversely affect the weight assigned to the witness' evidence on the issue or the evidence as a whole.

9. When giving an opinion, the witness should state and explain the degree of certainty of the opinion or the level of probability that it is correct. The degree of uncertainty and the reasons for uncertainty should be candidly acknowledged. Uncertainties and assumptions inherent in measurements should be clearly identified. The level of confidence or the sensitivity to error must be given.

10. It is better for a witness to base conclusions on facts and data obtained from those who possess them, rather than construct a series of possibly incorrect assumptions, hypotheses and/or models.

11. Where there is a lack of consensus with respect to the use of a particular model or formula, the rationale for the chosen approach should be identified.

12. If the witness' opinion is not properly researched because insufficient data is available, this shortcoming must be stated. Any limiting qualification to the opinion should be identified. The Commission expects to be told when a lack of factual information or experience will increase the probability of inaccurate conclusions or predictions. The witness should avoid speculation where data is insufficient.

13. Where an estimate falls within a range of reasonable possibilities, based on the same data, the variance within that range should be thoroughly disclosed. Where a prediction can lead to a range of potential impacts, that range should be fully described.

Plain Language

14. In preparing reports and giving testimony, the witness should take into account that the hearing process is a public process in which reports and testimony must be understood by participants and observers who may not have any significant technical knowledge. Therefore the language and writing style should be simple and direct and scientific or technical terms and concepts should be explained, where possible, in clear, simple language.

15. Where specialised language is necessary to convey information accurately, the witness should use it rather than risk misleading or over-simplifying. However, where possible, the witness should avoid the use of scientific terms and jargon and unfamiliar acronyms, or at least fully explain those terms, so that technical information and opinion can be easily understood.

Efficiency

16. Reports, witness statements and information should be produced in a timely fashion to all parties.

17. All reasonable requests for answers to interrogatories (that is, written questions) must be answered promptly and thoroughly by the witness.

18. Notwithstanding the requirements for full disclosure, the witness should make every effort to give succinct answers to questions put to him in written questions and in examination-in-chief, cross-examination and re-examination, and questioning by the Commission. Answers should be concise, responsive and focused on the most essential issues.

19. During his testimony a witness should not be called upon to review fundamental techniques in a painstaking step-by-step fashion, and to read correspondence and other reports line-by-line and page-by-page, unless it is clear that the purpose of such elaboration warrants this expenditure of time.
